REPORT OF SEMINAR ON "DIGITAL INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY FOR GENDER EQUALITY"

Date: 08-03-2023

Venue: Girls Sochum , SCC

The Department of Sociology, along with Girls Sochumers, organized a seminar called "Digital Innovation and Technology for Gender Equality" at Sochum girls hostel on 8/03/2023 commemorating International Women's Day. The event discussed how technology can make a difference in promoting equality between men and women. The seminar started with a short program. The SCC Girls Sochumers presented on "What it means to be a Woman," sharing their thoughts on the ups and downs of being a woman and talking about women who inspire them. This part created a sense of unity among the participants. Ms. Hotoni Yeptho, Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology, led a special prayer for women. This was a moment of reflection that brought everyone together. The most exciting part of the seminar was the talk by Ms. Dekhingpila, Assistant Professor, and Head of the Department of Sociology. She talked about how technology can help make things better for women. She explained how things like computers and the internet can empower women by giving them opportunities for education, jobs, and connecting with others. She also talked about the difficulties women might face in using technology and how we can turn these challenges into opportunities to make things better. The talk ended with a discussion about what we can do in the future to make sure technology keeps helping women. Participants were encouraged to share their ideas and be a part of the conversation. All together 17 Girls Hostellers and 4 faculty took part in this programme.
